Description

Provide a short description of the event and its activities.

This international seminar gathering Italian, Slovenian and Croatian educators is part of a European program "The Holocaust as a starting point (HSP)". It is organized by Education and Teacher Training Agency (ETTA), Zavod RS za šolstvo, the Italian ministry of Education, and Mémorial de la Shoah.

The 3 countries have many historical issues in common, especially the occupation policies in the Adriatic region between 1943 et 1945. Minority issue is a key element as well in this region and was addressed during the training. This dialogue has a very strong regional basis with a single language (English) facilitating the communications and discussions within the group. The training was divided between historical lectures and pedagogical workshops.
